Good Morning Greetings:

While gathered together, the Lifestyle Coordinator engages residents in meaningful conversation pertaining to the date, daily events, weather, and /or things that may have happened on this day in history.

“Creative You”:

With the rise of Adult Coloring, this activity encourages residents to explore their creative talents via the use of crayons, markers, or colored pencils all the while designing pages themed to the time of the year or recently occurring events.

Name That Tune:

Using a CD of various background music to songs of the residents’ era, residents take a chance at guessing each 30-second clip. And then it’s on to the next clip!

Exercise with Heather:

Redstone’s Exercise Physiologist, Heather, leads residents in group exercise with hand balls, while engaging in conversation to stimulate resident minds.

Worship with Pastor David:

Held in the Terrace Unit, residents of both Terrace and Courtyard gather to embrace religion and faith as part of a mini worship service lead by Pastor David Fetterman.

Craft:

Various crafts are put together with minimal help by the delicate hands of our residents. Anything made is for the residents to take.

Floyd Andrew:

Musical entertainment inspired by “Liberace.” Floyd Andrew not only comes dressed the part of Liberace, but plays the piano complete with a candelabra in the style of “Name that Tune.” Small conversation and dialogue is also provided during the hour of entertainment provided.

Good Morning Greetings:

While gathered together, the Lifestyle Coordinator engages residents in meaningful conversation pertaining to the date, daily events, weather, and /or things that may have happened on this day in history.

Hymn Sing:

Gathered together, the residents begin by reciting the Lord’s Prayer. A variety of 10 well-known hymns are sung in harmony along to the musical accompaniment of a CD. Reciting Psalm 23 aloud closes out the activity.

Hymn Sing with Jane:

Musical entertainment is performed on the piano in Terrace by Independent Resident, Jane Earnest, comprised of various hymns and other well-known songs.

Snowball Fight:

Snowball Fight is designed to bring about wellness and happiness, and is a great opportunity for gentle exercise. Using soft fluffy balls as white as snow, residents are encouraged to throw the snowballs back and forth, or at one another! It is not meant as a competition, just a simple exercise to practice hand-eye coordination and to get residents moving.

Jingo:

Played in the Courtyard Activity Room, this game of chance (similar to Bingo) requires number recognition, is great for hand-eye coordination, and promotes social well-being.

Joy Ride:

Using the Redstone bus, residents are invited to ride along on an approximately hour-long ride to see various local attractions and scenery.

Resident Committee Meeting:

Held on the 1st Wednesday of each month, residents of both Terrace and Courtyard gather in the Courtyard Activity Room to discuss matters pertaining to upcoming events, the care they receive, and dietary issues/concerns. PC Manager Amy Light and Morrison Dietary Management make appearances for discussions.

“Pretty Nails”:

Residents are provided the opportunity to get their fingernails clipped, filed, and polished. Mini hand massages with lotion are also offered and provided.

Music Corner:

Various songs and music genres are played. Residents are encouraged to sing-along, clap, or tap their feet along to the music being played.

Exercise with Heather:

Redstone’s Exercise Physiologist, Heather, leads residents in group exercise with hand balls, while engaging in conversation to stimulate resident minds.

Happy Hour:

Residents are served themed mocktail beverages to delight in as they socialize amongst the other residents of Terrace or Courtyard in the Terrace unit.

What’s Cooking:

Residents are served themed snack-size servings to delight in as they socialize amongst the other residents of Terrace or Courtyard in the Terrace unit.

Walk and Talk:

Gathering in the designated space where activities are set to occur, Walk and Talk engages residents in meaningful conversation as they walk along with the Lifestyle Coordinator.

Catholic Communion:

Parishioners from the local Catholic Church come to Terrace to provide a worship service for those of all denominations. Those that are Catholic are able to receive Communion should they so wish, while those who aren’t receive a blessing from the Father.

Name That Tune Sing-Along:

Residents delight in singing aloud amongst a group of their peers songs of all ages to the accompaniment of a CD and song booklet with the lyrics.

Name That State:

Using clues and visuals provided, residents will make attempts to guess the State to which the clues and visuals belong.

Touch of Pizzazz:

Vast variety of a monthly featured craft for residents to engage in creating, typically more advanced than the average craft. Some creations have even been sold in the Gift Shops at each campus!

Walk and Talk:

Gathering in the designated space where activities are set to occur, Walk and Talk engages residents in meaningful conversation as they walk along with the Lifestyle Coordinator.

Sit Down Dancing with Heather:

With the accompaniment of a DVD to follow along to, Redstone’s Exercise Physiologist, Heather, leads residents in group exercise along to songs of their era.

Songs of the Holiday Season:

DVD collection reflecting sentimental holiday songs and moments via imagery and song.

Bingo:

Played in the Courtyard Activity Room, this game of chance requires number recognition, is great for hand-eye coordination, and promotes social well-being.

Storytelling with Dennis:

Volunteer Dennis Bradley reads aloud various Inspirational Stories for approximately 45 minutes to 1 hour. He also engages in conversation.

Monthly Snack Cart:

Assorted themed snacks will be delivered to the door of all residents in both Terrace and Courtyard for their enjoyment once a month.
